DARING cities

Unlocking the potentials of transitional neighbourhoods and cities.

The city of Altea is participating in this network, financed by URBACT, which connects seven DARING cities committed to unlocking the potential of neighbourhoods and cities in transition. Based on Ravenna's experience in the UIA's DARE project, the network will design and apply an innovative combination of data, digital tools, citizen participation and stakeholder collaboration, storytelling and facilitation skills to improve, together, the quality of life of citizens.
